CLASS MEETINGS.

An informal dinner of the Class was held at the University Club, Boston, June 20, 1917. The Class Secretary presided, and there were informal speeches from Cabot, Batchelder, Hall, Hull, King, Darling, and others. The following 40 men were present: Balch, Batchelder, Brewster, Burr, Cabot, Caner, Case, Coulson, Darling, Dorr, Durfee, Hall, Hight, A. D. Hodges, W. D. Hodges, Holliday, Hull, Jennings, Joline, King, Latimer, Marvin, Maynadier, Moore, Morse, Newell, Perkins, Perry, J. S. Phelps, Proctor, Raymond, Richardson, Shuman, Slattery, Stone, Taylor, Townsend, C. Warren, Waterman, B. C. Weld.

At Hollis 12, on Commencement Day, the following 40 men were present: Bartholow, Batchelder, Bigelow, Brewster, Brooks, Bunker, Burr, Caner, Cogswell, Darling, Deblois, Durfee, Grew, Hathaway, Hight, Hull, Hulley, Jennings, Joline, King, Latimer, Maynadier, Moore, Morgan, Morse, Newell, Pillsbury, Potter, Prescott, Perry, J. S. Phelps, Raymond, Saunders, P. S. Sears, Taylor, Townsend, Trafford, Ward, C. Warren, Waterman—also, sons of Hull and Darling.

At the Class meeting there held, the following resolutions were adopted:—

Resolved, that at this, the first meeting of the Class of '89 since the death of our friend and classmate, Franklin Eddy Parker, we place on record a brief expression of our sense of personal bereavement in the loss of one so well and widely known throughout the Class and of our appreciation of his unswerving loyalty to the Class and his warm-hearted friendliness towards its members, and of his manly qualities, his upright life, his ever cheery spirit.

Coming to Harvard from the Boston Latin School, Frank Parker's personality immediately made itself felt. He was elected Secretary of the Class in Freshman Year and held that post, in combination with that of Treasurer, throughout the three remaining years of his college career. He rowed on the Class Crew and for three years was its Captain. In Sophomore Year he was substitute on the University Crew. In Senior Year he was elected Chairman of the Class Committee, a position which he held to the day of his death. All of these activities brought him into close contact with members of the Class and he was probably personally known to all. A devoted and enthusiastic member of '89, a successful man of business, a loving husband and father and a good citizen, he has left a fragrant memory and a name of good repute. Sincerely we mourn his death and sadly shall we miss him at our gatherings.

Further Resolved, that the Class Secretary is hereby instructed to place this memorial among the archives of '89 and to transmit a copy to the widow of our classmate and to every member of the Class.

Herbert Henry Darling was unanimously elected by the Class as Chairman of the Class Committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of F. E. Parker. The vacancy on the Class Committee was not filled.
